Community Service Comic Strip

Healthy Superhero Comic Strip

Step 1: What type of unhealthy food situation will your superhero face? (e.g., too much junk food in the world!)

________________________________________________________________________________________

________________________________________________________________________________________

Step 2: What will you call your superhero?

________________________________________________________________________________________

Step 3: What kind of superpowers will he or she have to help promote healthy eating habits?

________________________________________________________________________________________

________________________________________________________________________________________

Step 4: Write a short story about your superhero trying to promote healthy eating. After you have written the short story, illustrate it with pictures. Create a rough draft to sketch out the basic story line and figures. When you are satisfied with your draft, sketch the final copy on the sheet provided.

________________________________________________________________________________________

________________________________________________________________________________________

________________________________________________________________________________________

________________________________________________________________________________________
Title of My Healthy Superhero Comic Strip: