

"If God Gives You Lemons" Information Sheet

Synopsis:

"The purpose of philanthropic teaching is to promote an attitude that is informed, concerned and active. In order for young people to get excited about philanthropic acts, it is important for them to understand the emotional ramifications of such actions. Young people need to see how rewarding it is to be involved and set out to make a difference. Today's youth require strong and effective teaching tools to retain information. Moving images have the strongest influence in helping students remember material. If God Gives You Lemons is the first movie in a planned series to deal with issues of interest and importance to children and youth."

"It is the goal of IntroSpec Pictures to help people of all ages find it in themselves to make our world a better place, one person at a time..." - Greg Siers
