

Interview Questions

Who was the person who had the most positive influence on your life? What kind of influence did that person have on you?

Is there a person who really changed the course of your life by something he or she did or said? What was it?

I am interviewing you because I consider you to be a philanthropist, someone who gives of himself or herself for the sake of others.

- Do you see yourself as a philanthropist?
- Why did (do) you give of your time, talent or goods for the common good?
- Would you encourage others to follow your example?
- What other kinds of philanthropy would you encourage others to do?
