

Our Readings, My Feelings, Our Challenges

1. Today in class we heard the poem called
2. The two first thoughts I had after I heard the poem were:
3. When I heard about the Lost Boys, I thought:
4. Why do you think an American fifth grade student would have cared and acted to help free young children put into slavery?
5. When we begin our study of Africa and philanthropy, what are three things you want to learn?

