

Personal Character Components Wheel

After you have filled out your Personal Identity Chart, choose which components are most important to you. Are you a big sports fan? Are you proud to live in the Bronx? Or to be Latino? This wheel lets you pick your top eight identity components that you feel are most important about you.

Directions: Fill in your name in the center of the wheel and then write in the top eight. When you're done, look for people that chose some of same top eight identity components. Is there anyone whose wheel looks the same as yours? Anyone whose wheel is different?
