

Research Cycle: Problem/Phase One

Before you meet with your cooperative group to focus your research, think and write by yourself about the issue of industrialization and changing habitats.

What is a good question to research? (Think of past solutions to problems, stewardship, long-term consequences, adaptation to environment, modification of environment, changing geography, etc.)

---

---

---

Why is this an interesting research question? (Think of local issues, personal interest, resources, taking action, etc.)

---

---

---

---

Think of some other questions related to this problem. What else do you wonder about?
