

Unit Posttest

Circle the best answer.

1. The best example of an act of philanthropy is
 - a. giving time, talent, or treasure for the common good.
 - b. paying off a debt.
 - c. lobbying for no smoking in all public meeting places.
 - d. campaigning for a candidate.
 - e. accepting what is given to you with appreciation.
2. A newspaper op-ed is a good resource for
 - a. factual information about a historical event.
 - b. gathering fair and impartial information about an upcoming election.
 - c. browsing the headlines.
 - d. reading a columnist's point of view on a current issue.
 - e. finding food, entertainment, and attractions in the immediate area.
3. The process of interpreting personal feelings and impact of an experience is most often referred to as
 - a. recalling.
 - b. inferring.
 - c. day-dreaming.
 - d. guessing.
 - e. reflecting.
4. A personal narrative most often contains
 - a. factual information and statistics.

- b. events and reflections.
 - c. reviews of books and poems.
 - d. an accounting of monies spent and earned.
 - e. homework assignments and to-do lists.
5. Someone who gives time, talent or treasure for the common good is most appropriately referred to as
- a. a philanthropist.
 - b. a wealthy person.
 - c. a charity worker.
 - d. a do-gooder.
 - e. a donor.
6. The first paragraph of a news article is structured to help the readers
- a. find the details for a research paper.
 - b. come up with a attention-grabbing opening.
 - c. form an opinion.
 - d. decide whether to read the rest of the article.
 - e. make up their minds about the issue.
7. Which type of news article contains a clear purpose, arguments, and supporting details?
- a. front-page news story
 - b. personal narrative
 - c. op-ed
 - d. all of the above
 - e. none of the above
8. Which is an example of a revealing detail that shows rather than tells?
- a. The sun burned my exposed neck.
 - b. The kids were cold.

- c. We are happy.
 - d. The day was hot.
 - e. The seat is comfortable.
9. What feature in the newspaper cannot report about philanthropy?
- a. front page story
 - b. political cartoon
 - c. letter to the editor
 - d. op-ed
 - e. none of the above
10. Freedom of the Press ensures that newspapers
- a. are allowed to express an opinion.
 - b. can write about issues that offend the government.
 - c. give accurate information.
 - d. can express different points of view.
 - e. all of the above

