What Does Your Mind Tell You?

How did you apply your knowledge of stereotypes, prejudice, and discrimination in your service experience?

________________________________________________________________
________________________________________________________________
________________________________________________________________
________________________________________________________________

Did your experience change your beliefs and thoughts? If so, how are your beliefs and thoughts different now than they were before your direct service experience?

________________________________________________________________
________________________________________________________________
________________________________________________________________
________________________________________________________________

What information and/or skills did you learn from your experience?

________________________________________________________________
________________________________________________________________
________________________________________________________________
________________________________________________________________

How are the people you met similar to you? How are they different?

________________________________________________________________
________________________________________________________________
________________________________________________________________
________________________________________________________________